It has some interesting information in there on the missions they did but all of that info you can get off the website. Each chapter describes a mission, easier to just watch the episodes online, and then there is a few sub chapters on how to do the mission yourself. I wanted to read about the missions and not have a how-to guide. still a fun book but its just really not worth it.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I would rather of spent 10$ donating it to Improve Everywhere then to waste my time reading thisBy The GeekI read the online versions and seen the videos and this book really didn't add anything of value. I would rather of spent 10$ donating it to Improve Everyware then to waste my time reading this. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Lots of fun By wordgarden This book is a stitch. I laughed a lot reading about Improv Everywhere's elaborate "missions" (pranks) in public places in NY city. I love their attitude, which is to create a memorable, joyful bonding experience for the unwitting public (and the participants). Can be used as a handbook for anyone wishing to learn pranking or improv comedy on a large scale.

A fake U2 concert. A deranged hypnotist. A book signing by a dead author. Welcome to the wild world of Improv Everywhere. From the infamous No Pants! Subway Ride to the legendary Grand Central Freeze, Improv Everywhere has been responsible for some of the most original and subversive pranks of the Internet age. In Causing a Scene, the group's agents provide a hilarious firsthand account of their mischievous antics. Learn how they created a time loop in a Starbucks and gave Best Buy eighty extra employees. Join in on the fun with this irreverent, behind-the-scenes look at Improv Everywhere's world-famous missions, and get inspired to create your own memorable mayhem.

"[Causing a Scene], like the group itself, is inventive, entertaining, and frequently surprising." (Booklist) About the Author Charlie Todd is the founder of Improv Everywhere, producing, directing, performing, and documenting the group's work for over seven years. He is also a teacher and performer of improv comedy at the Upright Citizens Brigade Theatre in New York City.
