Draw 50 Monsters By Fred Baetz I got this for my 11 year old Grandson for a Christmas present and he loved it.. i also purchased a sketch pad and some artist pencils for him to use and before he opened any other gifts he had the pad and book open and was starting to draw monsters. His mom said he just loved the book, so easy to use with clear instructions. Any kid who has a artist streak in him or her would enjoy

Ordered it for my 6 year old nephew who is very much into drawing right now. He likes to follow the step by step instructions and after working on a few pictures with him from various website, my husband suggest these books. We bought a few for him (monsters, cars and animals) and some are a little more complicating for him but he loves it and started on them right away.

As described. Great book for children who like to draw. Fast terrible shipping! A+

Lee Ames has come up with 50 creepy creatures that young people can learn to draw. An American Bookseller Pick of the Lists.

About the Author
Lee Judah Ames (January 8, 1921 ndash; June 3, 2011) was an American artist noted for his Draw 50... learn-to-draw books. He was born in Manhattan, New York. His first job at age eighteen was at Walt Disney Studios. He has since led a career as an advertising artist, fine artist, cartoonist, designer, animation in-betweener, illustrator, and as an artist-in residence at Doubleday. His series of 26 Draw 50... books take a friendly and minimalist approach to teaching drawing while the books often contain no instructional text. He enlisted in the military and served as a second lieutenant during World War II. He and his wife Jocelyn resided in Mission Viejo, California.

A wild and wacky collection of monsters and other fantastic creatures awaits you in this book, and by following simple, step-by-step instructions, you can draw each and every one of them, from the Bride of Frankenstein to Sasquatch. Start by gathering your equipment. You will need paper, medium and soft pencils, and a kneaded eraser (available at art supply stores). You may also wish to have on hand India ink, a fine brush or pen, and a compass.
