Marketing yourself, in any profession, has to be one of the hardest aspects and the book appears to have helped her view that aspect of her illustration and work in a different way. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Informative. By Juvenal Martinez. Very good! But less on interviews and more on insider info would have been nice. To have. Would recommend to my friends. 9 of 11 people found the following review helpful. A 'must' for both business and arts libraries. By Midwest Book Review. MARKETING ILLUSTRATION; NEW VENUES, NEW STYLES, NEW METHODS discusses the basics of launching and promoting an illustration career in today's market. Interviews and work samples from over 70 working illustrators do more than just explain business practice: they chart trends and techniques based on new technology and practices and provides professional experience with daily challenges, making this a 'must' for both business and arts libraries.

The market for illustration is changing. How can illustrators survive and thrive? Illustration students, educators, and working artists will find illuminating commentary on editorial, graphic novels, comics, animations, Web, games, toys, fashion, textiles, and more, along with an exploration of how old platforms have changed and new ones emerged. Fifty working illustrators, including such top names as Christoph Niemann, Alex Murawski, Jashar Awan, Yuko Shimuzo, and Tomer Hanuka, share insights on what works now. Published in association with the School of Visual Arts, Marketing Illustration explores the impact of technology and the future of the illustration market. No illustrator can afford to miss this thought-provoking resource.
